PROCEEDINGS AT NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE
Washington, Jan. 24.—The national agricultural conference got down to work on details today when the committee appointed at the first session held their first meeting. The morning was given over to an open session marked by several addresses, including one by Herbert Myrick of Springfield, Mass., editor of Farm and Home.
Some signs of differences in the conference were shown today in a motion picture by J. S. Wannamaker of South Carolina for appointment of a committee on resolutions. This motion was defeated on the ground that the conference was already appointed were expected to consider resolutions.
Mr. Wannamaker issued a formal statement later, attacking the conference and declaring "about all the farmers and farm leaders have to do in this conference is to shake hands with the president, meet some official dignitaries, partake of a little ice cream and cake, and then go home."
"Selection of committees has been made in such a manner," Mr. Wannamaker said, "as to suggest that those responsible for such service are either totally ignorant of the qualifications of the delegates or have left themselves a cut and well baked scheme to drive forward looking farmer representatives from bringing any good whatever from out of the conference."
He was "confident," he continued, that it was "the purpose of those responsible for the conference to destroy the farm home."
"The president's address in opening the conference," he continued, "indicated very clearly that such was the purpose."
One question in which the delegates seem to be particularly interested is that of commodity financing. One member of the committee on agricultural credit and insurance which has this subject under consideration suggested that a plan probably could be worked out to provide for commodity loans running from one month to three years. His proposition would provide for the warehousing, grading and inspection of commodities, endorsement by banks of commodity paper presented by farmers and the handling of such paper through the federal farm loan bank system, which would either discount it through the federal reserve system or issue debentures against the loans through a certificate of indebtedness to be sold on the open market.
Proposals already put forward in the conference endorse Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals and completion of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway project. It is expected to be considered by a subcommittee of the transportation committee.
Representative Summers of Texas today submitted to the conference a committee on markets suggestions for establishing the "business of agriculture" upon the basis of a fairly permanent economic strength and of having about the same uniformity in the sale and distribution of commodities. His suggestions included standardization of agricultural commodities with reference to their use rather than "for future board transactions," establishment of a warehouse system under which commodities could be graded, stored and guaranteed in advance of sale, and a sale through a marketing agency by grade classification with delivery from warehouses of original or secondary storage.

Davis Theatre Today—Matinee Only
The photoplay for the matinee today is one of intense interest, featuring "Swamp," a beautiful tale of heart in a city's slums. Buster Keaton's latest comedy, "The Boat," will be shown. This is the funniest thing Buster Keaton ever made and is a continuous scream.
Base-Club Concert Friday Evening
The Annual Base-Club, whose concerts are always a strong attraction for Norwich audiences, will give its first concert this season on Friday evening this week at the community house on Church street. The program will consist of a popular character, presenting well-known numbers by the club, while three of the men will be the soloists of the evening. There is every expectation that an audience that will fill the house will be on hand to hear the Norwich singers whose work is always of a high character.
Exceptional Program for the Strand
Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
Will Stanton, the well known musical comedy comedian, is now appearing in "Swamp," a beautiful tale of heart in a city's slums. Buster Keaton's latest comedy, "The Boat," will be shown. This is the funniest thing Buster Keaton ever made and is a continuous scream.
In addition to this fine miniature musical comedy, there will be the usual number of other acts, namely, "The Three Acts" which will surely add to the amount of real enjoyment one will get out of the extraordinary quality program, the like of which has never been seen in Norwich before.
